ICOLD ON THE FRONT LINE FOR DEVELOPMENT

As the opening of 2007, each organization strives to face up to the challenges that will be met in the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) as set out in 2001. Different international agencies (United Nations) often do not seem to progress more in sharing their best practices, but there often are different solutions, and there are opportunities to work jointly to fill various gaps where all agree to be able to do so.

The case of Africa is well known. Twenty years of the population living in famine, with famine consequences, the fight, the Clean Water, the Health Care, and the Education. This situation continues with less than 7% of the hydroelectric potential is exploited in the continent. Available in the continent remains one of a millennium for the continent people.

Making the world more and disaster prepared to a sustainable one, and it is necessary to reduce the frequency of the largest Dam Dam Dam and flood management. All these are generally made more than to regional, national, and international. In order to generally make more than to regional, national, and international. In order to generally make more than to regional, national, and international.

It is therefore the aim and mission of ICOLD to promote and develop ideas and programs in the developing world. Africa being the priority ICOLD and in 2007 National Commission organizing great human strength, with more than 4000 professionals and experts in the field of dams. There are also 12 National Commissions, in which approximately 100 experts participate, organized in the following form of the Association of technical, scientific, social and environmental nature or governance to be. Through ICOLD, we will be able to contribute to the improvement of governance and other activities to help achieve the sustainable development vision.

ICOLD should be able to assist in the development of the dam. This is why we are looking for programs to support ICOLD, and to be a global leading in cooperation with United Nations organizations. On the global relations level, our main activities is to study others and to hope to will work as well as possible ICOLD activities.
